THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Vs.

Case No. 1:96CR00959-002

JOSE MARTINEZ

Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 30 L.Ed.2d 652, 92 S.Ct. 594 (1972): Pro Se Plaintiff's Pro Se Case Law: complaint should not be dismissed for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted if it appeared he may be able to offer proof of his claim.

MOTION FOR SENTENCE REDUCTION UNDER 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A) (Compassionate Release)

Comes now Pro Se Defendant as follows,

I EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES

18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A) allows you to file this motion (1) after you have fully exhausted all administrative rights to appeal a failure of the Bureau of Prisons to bring a motion on your behalf, or (2) 30 days after the warden of your facility received your request that the warden make a motion on your behalf, whichever is earlier.

Pro Se, moving this court for equitable consideration of Reduction in sentence. The movant has satisfied the statutory exhaustion requirements by submitting a request to the warden on 9-10-2021. 30 days has passed and the warden has never responded. [see exhibit-1 attached.]

II SENTENCE INFORMATION

Date of sentencing: 8-4-1998 Term of imprisonment imposed: LIFE Time served to date: 24 years and 8 months

SEE ATTACHED BOP: Sentence Monitoring Computation Data As of 10-26-2021

I would like the Court to note that 18 USC section 3582 (C) (1) (A), does not solely offer immediate release as a remedy, but also grants the Court the discretion to reduce or modify a sentence. I would appreciate an equitable reduction of the sentence taking into account the increased severity of the as a result of COVID-19 and the impact it now has on the penal system, in combination with other personal factors I will resent.

III GROUNDS FOR RELEASE

The crime took place in 1996 the law as changed in terms of the sentence that I could get to day. The court knows that facts have come to light that would cast doubt on the degree of my guilt as it was thought to be back in 1998 at the time of sentencing. I am now closer to 70 then 60 I have debilitating medical conditions. [see BOP Health Services Health Problems]

V. REQUEST FOR APPOINTMENT OF COUNSEL

I do not have an attorney and I request an attorney be appointed to help me.

VI. MEMORANDUM

Extraordinay and compelling Circumstances

A Large part of 28 USCS § 3582 (C)(1)(A) is that it gives the sentencing court the equitable opportunity to consider factors that it was not aware of at sentencing or factors unforeseen. In fact this agrees with 28. U.S.C.S. 991(b) which specifically encourages that judges exercise discerning flexibility in their application of the 3553 (A) factors for "aggravating" or "mitigating" circumstances of or to a degree, not adequately taken into consideration by the sentencing commision. A global pandemic like covid -19, and its undeniable impact on everything in modern society fits this definition well.

When the sentencing commision calculated the guidelines that this movant was sentenced under it couldn't have factored in the greatly multiplied punitive severity caused not by the movants own doing, as ones security level being increased as a result of failure to comply with prison rules, but by a global pandemic. It did not consider, (the sentencing commision) risk of death or severe illness, psychological issues created by pro-longed lock downs, in continuous fear of health and life. The sentecing commision models were based on idea penal conditions under normal circumstances.

Therefore it is only rational to assume that if the sentencing guidelines were crafted to take in the "B.O.P. currently strained operation" United States v. Sawicz 2020 LEXIS 64418(speaking about the pandemic created conditions in prison) The punitive value of a year in prison would greatly increase, and many terms would be fairly reduced, when the number one goal in sentencing an offende is to impose a sentence sufficient but not greater than neccesary..

The movant submits that the pandemic, the very real risk of death or severely debilitating illness in prison, and the psychological trauma of that makes the sentence greater than neccesary by many standards. see Holguin-Hernandez v. United States, 140 S.ct 762 (2020)

(a sentence that is greater than neccesary, is persay unreasonable)

The movant would ask the court to please consider the 3553 (A) factors not just as if the defendant committed the offense yesterday, but with a equitably renewed consideration. Considering the defendant as he is today, and the circumstances that exist today that were not forseen by the court, as many courts have.

Consider, United States v. Rahim 2020 U.S. Dist LEXIS 89355 (E.D. MICH may 21, 2020) quoting United States v. Zukerman, 2020 U.S. Dist LEXIS 59588("The severity of the (defendants) conduct remains unchanged. What has changed however, is the enviroment where the (defendant) is serving his sentence. When the court sentenced the defendant the court did not intend for that sentence to include, 'incurring a great and unforeseen risk of severe illness or death' brought by a global pandemic."

Consider also; United States v. Hatcher, 2021 U.S. Dist LEXIS 747 (S.D.N.Y. April 19, 2021) qouting United States v. Ng Lap Seng, 2021 U.S. Dist LEXIS 48187 WL 961-749 at *6(granting compassionate release after determining that 'the actual severity of (petitioners) sentence as a result of covid-19 outbreak exceeds what the court anticipated at the time of sentencing" (internal quotation marks ommited) quoting Rodriguez 2021 U.S. Dist LEXIS 181004, 2020 WL 5810161, at *3)

Indeed just because other courts have granted relief in a situation does not mean that a court is obligated to do the same in the discretionary matter, the movant only submits the above cases to show that the argument is non frivolous and worthy of this courts consideration.

respectfully, this movant understands the sincere consideration and factors that this court has to balance in these considerations not with standing the objections of the governemnt. However, This movant is not just asking for immediate release, but some equitable relief.

If the court decided against the immediate release of this movant, the movant would request that the court at the least fairly consider a equitable reduction of sentence taking in the Nationally recognized increased severity of the punishment.

Respectfully, If the court were to grant a reduction in sentence as the statute 18 USCS § 3582 (C)(1)(A) and 28 U.S.C.S. 991 (b)(1)(B) encourages under these specific set of circumstances, of any where from 1 year upto the remaining of the sentence under the circumstances, whatever relief the court granted would be more fair, than repectfully ignoring the obvious change of circumstances.

For example if the court was not inclined to a immediate release, a reduction leaving some time remaining on the sentence would potentially negate any immediate concern of threat to the community, or burden on the probation department, and give the movant even more time to prepare for release in a meaningful manner.

It is no mystery that many courts are not pressed to release convicted criminals from prison early absent, a good reason, and some have even intimated, that the risk of death in prison was not created by covid -19. However, this does not speak to the proven increased severity of the punishment, and the importance of equity in the application of the sentencing factors.

In Final the movant hopes at the court would consider a LIFE - to timer served. reduction of his sentence of Time served. The Movant has served 24 years and 8 months, and Feels that with the reduction his time served and what ever time the court grants would still satisfy the factors under these circumstances. However, any relief granted would be appreciated by the movant as a further encouragement towards being a productive member of society. "any amount of actual jail time" of would be significant, Glover v. United States 531 U.S. 198 (2001). "It is crucial in maintaining public perception of fairness and integrity in the justice system that courts exhibit regard for fundamental rights and respect for prisoners 'as people.' I.Tyler, Why People Obey the Law 164 (2006) quoted in Rosales-Mireles.

VI MOVANT'S DECLARATION AND SIGNATURE

For the reasons stated in this motion, I move the court for a reduction in sentence (compassionate release) under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A). I declare under penalty of perjury that the facts stated in this motion are true and correct.

Respectfully Submitted,

JOSE MARTINEZ
